MIXED HYBRIDS. 3 for 85c; 10 for $2.55

ACIDANTHERA

Begonias and Caladiums are ideal for those shady spots in the garden where they will give continuous color all summer and fall. They make wonderful house plants, too, as do Gloxinias and Amaryllis. These colorful house plants can be moved to the porch or terrace as soon as warm weather has set in. Acidanthera and Anemones are delightful when they are grouped here and there in the garden.

ACIDANTHERA

A number of sweet-scented flowers are suspended on a gracefully arching, 2-foot stem. Rare and unusual, yet easy to grow because it thrives in all locations.

TUBEROSES Make fine cut-flowers. Spikes are 2½ feet tall. Exotic fragrance. Plant in groups of 3 or more in the sun.

6 for 70c;

25 for $2.65

ISMENE Delightfully fragrant, pearly white flowers, three to a stem. Sturdy plants. Plant 3 bulbs to a group, or singly among shrubs and plants. A truly worthwhile bulb deserving an important position in the garden.

60c each;

3 for $1.60

LYCORIS Hardy Amaryllis. Produces in late summer a tall flower spike with numerous fragrant, delicate pink flowers. Spring planting enables the bulbs to establish themselves for blooming the following year.

3 for $1.00;

10 for $3.00

Summer-flowering bulbs are easy to grow. Even the most inexperienced gardener will get complete satisfaction from these bulbs.

The stately Lilies will be enjoyed for many years when they are left in the ground undisturbed. The Gloriosa is interesting to see climbing on a trellis and producing those magnificent, long-lasting cut-flowers. Tigridias, Tuberoses, Ismene and Oxalis need a sunny location for satisfactory blooming.

OXALIS American Shamrock. Rosy crimson flowers in bunches. Lucky four-leaf-clover foliage. Wonderful for edgings, rock gardens, and hanging baskets indoors.

25 for 65c;

100 for $2.30

GLORIOSA Climbing Lily. Exquisite flowers are brightly colored and unusually long lasting. Make startling floral arrangements, corsages, etc. Plant grows 5 feet tall. Tendrils on leaves attach themselves to trellis or fence for support. Blooms August and September.

$1.25 each;

3 for $3.50

CALLA LILIES These tropical Lilies with an abundance of green foliage give the plants an ornamental appearance all summer long. Delightful flowers for cutting. Thrive in a sunny location where they bloom in August or September. Grow some in pots for indoor decoration.
